Please note that this year we are waiting for completion of tower repairs at the cathedral, which are promised by May 10th. Also, the libraries in the city are on strike, so we can't get in to St. Matthew's tower at the moment. We have a mini-ring set up in the cathedral. Hopefully we will have two towers, a mini-ring, and handbells for the weekend, but no guarantees. Please send in a registration if you are would like to come, just indicate it your attendance depends on whether or not we have bells. When we receive your registration, Andrea will email you for more details about your expectations for ringing, and to keep you up to date on the tower availability (please check your spam folder, the email will come from a personal address).
